Cybersecurity

About me

A lifelong passion for computing, especially cybersecurity, has inspired me to delve deeply into technology. Realizing this childhood dream, I have developed diverse skills in networks, cybersecurity, and computing in general from hardware to software, including websites, database, applications, and blockchain, robotics and more. I just love "IT" and what's related to this domain. I am also very passionate about sports, medicine and security in general. Former volunteer firefighter cadet (JSP).
